CL. Reddon – President & Founder of RBS

With a passion for holistic human potential and transformation, I lead Reddon Behavior Systems (RBS) on a journey of exploration and discovery. Our core belief is in the power of healing, the bedrock of all development, as it paves the way for embracing timeless wisdom. I've personally witnessed the transformative impact of behavioral health and science in my life, and I'm committed to sharing these tools to help others experience a similar journey of growth and empowerment.

TO LASTING CONNECTION

What are the fundamental objectives of your organization? Is it centered around lead generation, enhancing brand recognition, or building strategic connections? Is it making a meaningful difference in the lives of everyday people, and moving humanity forward? What is your why?

Our team of experts will guide you in mapping out your Relationship Reset journey, ensuring you maximize the value of your time at our event.

Put the Word Out:

Partnering with us can significantly boost specialists' brand awareness. Our established organization can introduce specialists to a broader audience, increasing their recognition in their respective fields.

Thought Leadership:

Partnering allows specialists to establish themselves as thought leaders in their fields. Contributing to our programs and sharing their expertise helps them gain recognition as experts, enhancing their reputation and influence.

Specially Crafted Collaborations

Collaborating with our partners, we aim to create engaging experiences at the Relationship Reset event that truly capture the essence of their brand and help them achieve their unique objectives. We connect with our attendees through various avenues, including:

- Providing spaces for partner showcases.
- Offering workshops, cozy lounges, and tailored side events.
- Crafting meaningful content both offline and online.
- Hosting memorable night events for networking and relaxation.

Together, we aim to make CL Reddon's "Relationship Reset" an unforgettable and transformative experience for all.
